

Unknown Emotions

Chipo Karudze

Flights through clouds
To a new life
Filled with unknown emotions
Filled with a fear
A fear of not being accepted

From majority to minority
Comparison becomes a habit
Differences become crystal clear
Loud laughs hide silent cries
The thought of change agitates a fear
A fear of not being accepted

Cultures intertwine like girdling roots
Connected by the uniqueness of each other
As the day concludes
The feeling of acceptance slowly fades away
As the sun descends, a fear ascends
A fear of not being accepted
