

A GIRL BORN IN THE FAIRY KINGDOM

Lena Watson

As I woke up with a yawn, I looked out my window and remembered today was a market day. I jump out of my warm, comfy bed, singing a song while brushing my hair quickly. I need to buy some food. When I was walking, my friends were going to be there! I wasn't complaining. And besides, I was going to tell them something anyway. Running out of my house, I saw some rabbits on the way. Oh, and I was also going to tell you that the planet I live on is not named Earth; it is called Iroria-8, and the city is called Victoria. I love my home planet; I know every single corner of it. Fun fact! Did you know my favourite city is Krome? It's an elf city. It was fun shopping; I kept laughing, and I don't know why. I saw my friend. Then my body started rushing towards them. I told them about my new school, which my mystery guardian signed me up for even though I tried to find out who it was.

"You know, I'm kind of craving boba now; let's get some!" My friend Ava said "YYeah," said Mia. Further in the day, we did some cool stuff like puff painting in my favourite art studio and going to the best Kromian food restaurant in my city. And yes, we did get some boba. Fun fact: I love boba! I am not very sure if you need that information. Let's skip a little bit because the story is supposed to be short. So yeah. And in this story, you might ask how many friends I have. Here is the answer: I have five friends: Mia, Ava, Aurora, and Olivia. Yeah, I know a lot of friends. There was this one guy who kept staring at us; it was creepy. Oh, and I am having a sleepover with my friends. This strange guy kept following us, and I got tired of it, so we stopped.

But suddenly we all went black. I woke up and found out that we were in a different city, the city of elves. Which was weird. My friends woke up a few minutes later.

"Where are we?" said Aurora. We are in Elf City, said I. Woooow, Woooow said Olivia. Then I started to see a little piece of light. I was very confused, and then I said, Is it just me that sees some light? No, said all my friends at once. All of us started running to the light. There was a gem, not just one gem, but five gems. I looked down, and I saw a letter that said protect the gem. I told the others what we had to do. Protect it. But first, we need to find a place to go. We walked a long way, then we finally found a place to rest for the day. Hey guys, we should make a necklace. Good idea, said Aurora. An old man came up to us and gave us a map. What was that for?
