

NEW ZEALAND – THE LAND WHERE PEOPLE COME TOGETHER

Jay Govindji

The sun rises over the rugged hills of New Zealand,
A Māori elder stands before a mesmerized audience,
He speaks and lectures with confidence,
While his loud voice resonates through the marae.

The elder recounts ancient stories,
While he shares wisdom passed down from generations, The meeting houses surround the sacred grounds,
The intricately carved houses depict tales of their ancestors.

A small coastal town in the land of New Zealand,
Exists nestled between rolling green hills,
Beautifully surrounded by pristine beaches,
It provides a place of belonging for Kiwis to gather.

Laughter fills the air as they ride the waves,
The Kiwis and their carefree spirits,
They reflect the laid-back lifestyle they embrace,
All while the salty breeze carries the sound of their camaraderie,

Throughout the bustling streets of Auckland, New Zealand, Symphonies of languages and cultures fill the air,
The tantalizing aroma of spices from an Indian market, Mingles with the sizzling sounds of Korean barbecue.

The languages and cultures sprout through New Zealand, People from all walks of life come together,
Celebrations of their diverse backgrounds occur,
Where the people cherish the unity that binds them as New Zealanders

A stadium erupts with thunderous cheers,
The All Blacks charge onto the rugby field,
The silver fern adorns their black jerseys,
While playstyle sprouts the cultures of New Zealand.

The energy is palpable as fans clad in black,
Their faces painted with pride,
Their mouths singing the national anthem,
The people cheering with pride and cherishment.

In a quiet studio tucked away in Wellington,
An artist carefully brushes vibrant colors onto a canvas,
Capturing the breathtaking landscapes,
Capturing the long white cloud.

The creativity flows through New Zealand's veins,
The awe-inspiring beauty surrounds its people,
Fueling their imagination through scenery and landscapes,
Leaves an indelible mark on the world of art and film.

A group of friends gathers around a table,
Sharing a feast of freshly caught seafood,
Succulent lamb roasted to perfection,
Steaming hangi's infused with flavors that harken back to Māori traditions.

Glasses clink before the people drink,
The wines from the vineyards of Marlborough get devoured, Laughter echoes as stories are shared,
Creating memories that will forever be cherished.

A weary traveler steps off the plane,
Greeted by a welcoming smile from a stranger,
Any feelings of fatigue dissipate,
As a sense of belonging washes over them.

The vibrant cities, the tranquil countryside,
The Kiwi way of life, embracing the concept of slowing down, Savoring moments, and fostering genuine connections.

New Zealand. The land where people come together.
