

I WILL ALWAYS LOVE YOU.
EVEN IF THE WORLD IS AGAINST YOU
greencat34.

It was the summer we stole from movies. Back when our cheeks were endlessly mine.

We sat content in the Between of being. It was the summer your hands grew strong,
Wrapping around me in my true colour.
We knew nothing but open windows,
warm air

Delicately lifting each page of us.
Spilling ink on white bed sheets, your finger, my thighs.

It was the summer i found the fire
within me and burned all day for you.
We bottled time and drank it freely into the night, cool youth trickling down our throats. Love caught in our teeth.
Yes it was the summer of you until the fall became the end of me.
For gay boys/men.

